

Social and Personal

The boys and girls who have made so bright and happy a note in Richmond life during their stay here for the Christmas holidays will go back to school and college this week, and those left behind will bewail their going. Only one bright prospect remains as consolation. That is that Easter will bring these boys and girls back again, and as Easter falls this year on April 19th, they will come with the coming of spring flowers and the new year.

The Legislature meets Tuesday, January 7th, and the city will be full of the agreeable bustle attendant upon the arrival of members of the General Assembly of Virginia and their families, who always receive a cordial welcome from Richmond friends and the social world of the city.

The dance given by the Monday German Club last week was very largely attended, and was beautiful in all its appointments. Colonel Jo Lane Stern and Mr. W. S. P. Mayo led, and the evening's enjoyment was crowned by an elegant supper, with Christmas surprises and abounding good cheer for everybody.

The dance of the Tuesday German Club will be the attraction for the beginning of this week. As this is to mark the opening of the new year, it will doubtless repeat the brilliant story so well begun for this winter by the Monday and Tuesday organizations.

The Saturday afternoon dances from 5 to 7 o'clock, at Hermitage Golf Club had a pleasant beginning on yesterday. The Hermitage Club is rapidly becoming a centre of charming social life, its tennis courts and golf links offering excellent recreation, and its ballroom forming a resort for those who prefer dancing or a seat beside an open fire during the winter afternoons and evenings.

Several weddings of interest have prominent place on the calendar of this week, notably that of Miss Mamie Helson, of Chicago, to Mr. Blanchard Forbes, of this city, to be celebrated Tuesday, January 7th, in Chicago. Mr. Forbes will doubtless take a large party of friends and relatives in his party to Chicago.

The wedding of Miss Bayne Taylor, daughter of Colonel George Washington Taylor, of Norfolk, to Mr. Philip Maxwell Prescott, Jr., of Washington, D. C., is to be celebrated on Saturday afternoon next, January 11th, at 3 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal Church, Norfolk. Miss Taylor has been a frequent visitor to Richmond, and a number of her friends here will attend her wedding.

Another wedding of Saturday next that will be of decided interest here, will be that of Mrs. Basil Gordon to Lieutenant-Colonel George Barnett, U. S. M. C. It will also be celebrated at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, at Christ Church, Baltimore.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Patton Kelly, whose wedding was celebrated in Lynchburg on December 29th, were pleased to note that they spent a few days here at the Jefferson Hotel last week, before going to their new home at Clinchport, Va. As Miss Langhorne Cosley, Mrs. Kelly was, for several seasons after her debut, a very popular young girl in Richmond society.

Returning to College.

Numbers of young people returning this week to the respective institutions of learning, where they are engaged as students, will include Miss Emily Lyman, who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. George Cunningham, at the Chesterfield, and who returns to Woman's College, in Lynchburg. Other young ladies to leave the Chesterfield will be Miss Lettice Woodward, who will go to Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va., and Miss Lora Crump, who graduates at Hollins Institute, Va., in June.

Miss Spencer's School, in New York, will claim Miss Dorothy Christian and her holiday house guests, Miss Charlotte Whiting, of Rochester, and Miss Alice Foote, of New Jersey. Miss Ella Bueck, who has been in Richmond since the beginning of Christmas week, will also return to New York.

Misses Bessie Jackson, Miss Mary Saunders, Miss Cary Valentine, Miss Alice Nelson, Miss Barbara Trigg, Miss Fanny Miller, Miss Grace Perkins, Miss Nell Potts will resume class work this week at Sweet Briar Institute.

Other young ladies returning to Stuart Hall, Hollins, Notre Dame, Baltimore, and Mary Baldwin Institute, Staunton, Va., will be Misses Mary Chalmers, Miss Sadie Habington, Miss Lucy Witt, Miss Phoebe Cullingworth and Miss Gladys Neale.

Young gentlemen leaving Richmond this week are: William Miller, Marshall Forsyth, Herbert and Hamilton Claiborne, Talmage Donnan, John Ingram, John Welford, Corydon Sutton, Carl Walker, Frederick Campbell, Charles Watkins, Frank Christian, Carrington Williams, James Patton, Jr., Thomas Alkinson, Jr., Albert Bruce and John Alken Branch.

Misses Nancy Patton, Gwendolyn Rutherford and Rosalie Valentine return to St. Mary's, New Jersey.

At Woman's Club.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. J. C. McCall gave a paper before the Woman's Club on "Prefaces and Some of Their Peculiarities."

Hostesses for the occasion will include Mesdames William A. Anderson, L. H. Blair, James Caskie, Robert Cecil Garlick, James E. Patton, Jr., V. Meredith, John S. Muncie and Misses Ellen Gulgon, Helen Morrison and Mary Penick.

Mrs. Garlick and Miss Gulgon will preside at the tea table, while Mrs. Caskie, Mrs. Muncie and Miss Penick will pour coffee.

The history class will hold its next regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Eda Buddecke, of Baltimore, who spent twelve years abroad in the study of art, and has won the reputation of being an unusually attractive speaker, has been engaged to lecture before the Woman's Club on Monday, January 13th, on "The Five Great Masters of the Renaissance." As the lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views of many of the most famous pictures in the world, it will be given at night.

In the Y. M. C. A. Hall, and members will be entertained by the lecture, which besides their own admission tickets, has been engaged to lecture before the Woman's Club on Monday, January 13th, on "The Five Great Masters of the Renaissance." As the lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views of many of the most famous pictures in the world, it will be given at night.

Waverly Social News

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Waverly, Va., January 4.—The Christmas of 1907 has been a merry one in Waverly. On Christmas Day the children of the Christian Church were made happy by the appearance of old Santa Claus, who presented them with numerous good things to eat; on Thursday afternoon the Baptist Sunday school gave a Christmas tree to the children of the church.

On Friday night the young men of the town gave a dance at the Town Hall, while the Philomathean Club was handsomely entertained by Mrs. J. F. May. The usual literary program was dispensed with, and a literary contest was entered into. The names of twenty authors, hidden in as many sentences, were to be guessed, with a lovely Japanese pitcher as the prize. There was a tie between Miss Annie E. Martin and Mrs. W. V. Martin, which finally resulted in favor of Mrs. Martin. Humorous selections were read from various authors by Mrs. J. V. West, Mrs. J. F. West, Mrs. L. A. Chappell and Miss Annie Martin, while Judge P. F. West related in his happy vein some of his amusing anecdotes, which never fail to entertain. Delightful music was furnished by Misses Grace and Elsie West and Miss Mary May, who were the guests of the club. The charming hostess served dainty refreshments.

On Saturday night Mrs. Lucy A. Chappell entertained in her elegant home on East Main Street about forty of the young people in honor of her sons. Those present from a distance were Mrs. Elizabeth Chappell, of Petersburg; Miss Gypsy Lee Smith, of Lynchburg; Miss May Rowe, of Fredericksburg; Prof. J. Samuel Guy, of Fredericksburg; Miss Margaret Rivers, of Norfolk; and Mr. James Williams, of Lynchburg. All went as merry from a marriage bell, and as the clock struck 12, Sunday sent them home.
